DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 1, 3, 9 – 10, 12 and 21 - 22 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Robinson (EP 1 221 793).

Re claims 1 and 10, Robinson teaches of a channel state measurement apparatus for a receiver (Abstract, Fig.6), comprising: a direct channel state measurement unit for receiving complex symbol streams (Paragraph 0064, 0086, #240, Fig.6), for performing de-mapping on the complex symbol streams (demapping circuit, #240, Fig.6, Paragraph 0049) for calculating an error signal (output from #246, Fig.6) based on the received complex symbol streams (positive input of #246) and de-mapped complex symbol streams (hard quantiser, negative input of #246) (#240, Fig.6, Paragraphs 0052 – 0055, 0064), and for generating direct channel state information based on the calculated error signal (Paragraph 0064); an indirect channel state measurement unit for generating indirect channel state information based on a magnitude of a channel frequency response (Paragraphs 0065 - 0066, 0080, 0087, Fig.6, #320); a co-channel interference detection unit (comparison circuit #350) for generating a channel state selection control signal (selection) based on the calculated error signal (CSI from #240) and magnitude of the channel frequency response (CSI from #320) (Paragraphs 0088 - 0089, detects the worse or poorer channel state, see also Paragraphs 0003, 0005 and 0066); and a selection unit for selectively outputting one of the direct channel state information and indirect channel state information, based on a logic state of the channel state selection control signal (Paragraph 0088 - 0089, selects the best channel state).

Re claims 3 and 12, Robinson teaches of the indirect channel state information is a signal obtained by quantizing the magnitude of the channel frequency response with a uniform transfer function (limiter or clipper, #334, Fig.4, #352, Fig.6, Paragraph 0077).

Re claim 9, Robinson teaches of the receiver being a digital video broadcasting-terrestrial DVB-T receiver (Abstract).

Re claim 21, Robinson teaches of a channel state measurement apparatus for a receiver that provides channel state information in accordance with the method of claim 10 (Fig.6, Abstract).

Re claim 22, Robinson teaches of an apparatus for providing channel state information in a receiver in accordance with the method of claim 10 (Fig.6, Abstract).

Allowable Subject Matter

Claims 17 – 20 are allowed.

Claims 2, 4 – 8 and 11, 13 – 16 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.
